ASSIGNMENT BOOK INTRODUCTION

Only questions in this Assignment Booklet must be submitted for evaluation. Submit self-study and self-development exercises from your lessons only if you wish feedback from your correspondence teacher.

While the self-development and self-study exercises are not graded, you should work through them. The knowledge and skills you develop from doing those exercises could be of value on the exam. If you do not do all of the exercises, your chances of passing the exam will drop. In some cases not doing the self-development/self-study exercises could be the main cause of failure.

Answer the questions in this Assignment Booklet in complete sentences. Give examples, where necessary, to help clarify your definitions or explanations.

We encourage you to phone us if you have a question, need help or wish to discuss a topic with us.

You can call us toll free from inside Alberta. The steps are:

1. Look in your phone book's white pages. Under the letter "G," you will find "Government of Alberta."

2. The first number given will be a RITE number. Dial that number.

3. Tell the operator who answers that you want the Alberta Correspondence School in Barrhead. Our number is 674-5333.
